Places of Interest to Visit While at SHARKFEST'10

Stanford University Campus

The Stanford campus offers a wealth of sightseeing and educational opportunities. Contemporary campus landmarks include the Main Quad and Memorial Church, the Cantor Center for Visual Arts and art gallery, the Stanford Mausoleum and the Angel of Grief, the Hoover Tower, the Rodin sculpture garden, the Papua New Guinea Sculpture Garden, the Arizona Cactus Garden, the Stanford University Arboretum, Green Library and the Dish. Frank Lloyd Wright's 1937 Hanna-Honeycomb House and the 1919 Lou Henry and Herbert Hoover House are both listed on the National Historic Register.

Visit: <http://www.stanford.edu/dept/visitorinfo/plan/guides/visit.html> for links and more information.

Palo Alto and Silicon Valley Sights

The Tech Museum of Innovation

201 South Market Street, San Jose, CA 95113

The Tech Museum is singularly focused on inspiring the innovator in everyone it reaches. Truly hands-on and interactive exhibits, divided among themed galleries, offer guests a truly memorable experience. The Hackworth IMAX Dome Theater and various unique museum programs make a visit to the bright, mango-colored Tech one you won't soon forget.

Stanford Shopping Center

680 Stanford Shopping Center, Palo Alto, CA 94304

San Francisco Bay Area's premier shopping and dining experience. One of the few open air centers in the U.S., Stanford Shopping Center features spectacular, award-winning gardens and picturesque sculptures by California artists. Enjoy our European-style street market where the scents of gourmet coffees, fresh flowers and international cuisine fill the air. It truly is a one of a kind experience.

Museum of American Heritage

351 Homer Ave, Palo Alto, CA 94301

This museum is where you can discover that the son of Frank Lloyd Wright invented Lincoln Logs in 1920, that Tinker Toys were the result of a stonemason watching his kids play with old thread spools and pencils, and that the inventor of the Erector Set had a medical degree and won the Olympic gold medal at pole vaulting. This historic house contains a wealth of American memorabilia coupled with information on the people who created these popular inventions.

NASA Ames Research Center

Moffett Field, Mountain View, CA 94035

The Ames Exploration Center allows visitors a glimpse NASA technology and missions through exhibits and multimedia presentations. Perhaps the most impressive feature is the 40 foot wide curved video screen, which shows amazing footage taken from various satellites. It's probably the best look at outer space that you'll ever get!

Palo Alto Art Center

1313 Newell Rd, Palo Alto, CA

The entryway adorned with signs revealing "5680 miles west of the Louvre" and "340 miles north of the Getty," is a clear indication that this is a museum with a sense of style and humor. There are about a dozen new exhibits a year with many focusing on artists from the Bay Area.

Palo Alto Junior Museum and Zoo

1451 Middlefield Rd, Rinconada Park, Palo Alto, CA

This hands-on museum, the first of its kind on the west coast, combines art and animals in a wholesome, family-style environment where young and young-at-heart alike can find something fun to do or see. Docent-led tours are offered on the weekend and special on-going and one-day programs are provided throughout the year. The zoo has a number of popular exhibits, including a 500 gallon saltwater tank complete with sharks.

San Francisco Sights

Alcatraz Island

Golden Gate National Recreation Area, San Francisco, CA, (415) 705.5555

No longer a prison for some of America's most dangerous offenders, Alcatraz is part of the National Park Service and is a must-see for visitors to the city. Once on the island, you will certainly be captivated by its history and its incredible beauty. Take your camera because regardless of the view, a photo opportunity awaits. Also, dress in layers (even during the summer months) because the island can be breezy and inside the prison walls it is cold and damp.

Golden Gate Park

Stanyan & Haight Streets, San Francisco, CA, (415) 581.2559

In the late 1800s, a Scotsman named John McLaren transformed more than 1000 acres (405 hectares) of sand dunes into a wondrous haven in the midst of busy city life. Stretching from Stanyan Street to the Pacific Ocean, the lush landscaping features ever-changing settings at every turn. There are trails for walking, jogging, biking, horseback riding, as well as a golf course, lawn bowling greens, soccer fields and a baseball diamond.

Lombard Street

Lombard Street and Hyde Street, San Francisco, CA

This picturesque stretch of Lombard Street has 8 angles along a single block! They twist acutely, making for very slow going if you are in a car. The drive is usually bumper-to-bumper, so a stroll is a good option, especially when the hydrangeas along the sidewalk are in bloom.

Fisherman's Wharf

The Embarcadero & Powell St, San Francisco, CA

Fisherman's Wharf remains one of San Francisco's most popular tourist destinations. The Wharf consists of a long, coast side row of seafood restaurants, street vendors, souvenir stores, and beautiful ocean scenery. Fisherman's Wharf was originally a major fishing pier, and although the fishing industry is still alive today, the main focus of this area is its historic tourist attractions.

Palace of Fine Arts

3301 Lyon Street, San Francisco, CA, (415) 563.6504

Constructed as a temporary attraction for the 1915 Pan-Pacific International Exhibition, this Grecian temple of a monument continues to enchant and enhance the city. Swans in the adjoining lagoon glide by the soaring ochre-tinted colonnades and the imposing dome ringed with panels of centaurs.

Beach Blanket Babylon

678 Green Street, San Francisco, CA, (415) 421.4222

www.beachblanketbabylon.com

Beach Blanket Babylon started 30 years ago, springing from the creative mind of impresario Steve Silver, as a rag-tag collection of bizarrely-costumed street theater performers. It is a fairy tale for adults, wherein Snow White takes a fast-paced musical journey in search of her Prince Charming. Along the way, Snow White encounters a star-studded, always changing, always contemporary line up of hilarious pop culture characters.

AT&T Park

24 Willie Mays Plaza, San Francisco, CA, (415) 972.2000

Open Hours, Tours: Daily 10am-2pm every hour on the hour except game days

<http://www.sfgiants.com>

AT&T Park is the first privately-financed ballpark in MLB since Dodger Stadium (1962), the San Francisco Giants' new home features an inspiring nine-foot statue of America's greatest living ballplayer, Willie Mays, at the public entrance; an 80-foot (24-meter) Coca-Cola bottle with playground slides, and more.

Stow Lake Boat & Bike Rentals

Stow Lake Drive and Stow Lake Dr E, San Francisco, CA (415) 752.0347

Open Hours: 10am-4pm, M-Sun

Inside San Francisco's famous Golden Gate Park lies Stow Lake, a small recreation area complete with waterfall. Local families and tourists come here to rent paddle-boats, have a picnic, or just feed the ducks. Electric boats can be rented. Those who would rather remain on land can rent bikes and roller blades. Ride or skate through Golden Gate Park, then afterwards stop by the concession stand for popcorn, hot dogs, and ice cream. Note: Cash only.

Biking in San Francisco

Biking is one of the best ways to see the streets and sights of San Francisco! For bike rentals, trails, pricing and more, please visit: www.blazingsaddles.com

Hiking Trails in San Francisco

It's a great way to see the City! Whether you're a visitor or a native, you discover the real heart of San Francisco, and find yourself in places you've never been before.
